

YOUTH KILLED IN CRASH WITH AUTO AND MOTORCYCLE

When the motorcycle on which he was a passenger crashed into an automobile driven by Harry Spencer on the Jamestown pike, two miles and a half from Xenia, Leon W. Fries, 20, years old, son of Mrs. Pearl Toms, of Mooreland Flats, received injuries which caused his death a short time later at the McClellan hospital.

Clarence Lamme the same age, son of Frank Lamme of Bellbrook, owner and driver of the motorcycle, has a fractured right ankle, and severe bruises. He was able to be taken home after his broken leg was set by Drs. A. C. and H. C. Messenger.

The motorcycle crashed into the five passenger Maxwell touring car as it was making the turn into the Kendall road, and so great was the speed of the motorcycle that the crash carried the automobile across the road, and over the edge of a small culvert. The Fries lad who was riding on the rear seat of the motorcycle was tossed over the car, and caught between the bumpers of the machine and a fence post. The car had to be turned over before the lad could be released. He was crushed through the chest and received a fracture at the base of the skull. He died as he was being carried into the hospital.

Frank W. Walker of the Walker Coal Company, who was a passenger in the Spencer car, was tossed through the windshield, and both legs were cut below the knees. Mr. Spencer was unhurt. The car was badly damaged.

Sidney Smith of the Hagar Board and Paper Company, at Cedarville, was the first person who happened along after the accident occurred, and he assisted Mr. Spencer and Mr. Walker in turning over the car and releasing the terribly injured young man. Other people were soon at the scene, and the injured lads were brought to this city, within a short time after the accident occurred.

Mr. Spencer and Mr. Walker were taking a little pleasure ride out the pike, and Mr. Walker remarked that it was necessary for him to be back in Xenia in order to meet an engagement at 7 o'clock. Mr. Spencer threw out his arm to warn traffic that he was about to turn and made a little detour to the right in order to negotiate the turn into the Kendall road, so that he might turn back to Xenia. As he turned his car the motorcycle traveling at a high rate of speed crashed into the machine.

Young Lamme said that he did not see Mr. Spencer extend his hand as a signal that he intended to turn and when the touring car lay off to the right he concluded that it was pulling out so that he could pass and drove ahead.

Young Fries leaves his mother and grandmother, with whom he lived, one brother, Ernest Fries of this city and a half brother, Luther Toms, of Allph. Mr. Walker who was a passenger in the Spencer car, is the father-in-law of Ernest Fries.

The Fries and Lamme boy were great chums and Lamme drove his motorcycle to Xenia Thursday evening intending to take the Fries lad back with him to his home in Bellbrook. The boys expected to go to Dayton Friday to attend the circus. Before driving back to Bellbrook they concluded to take a spin out Jamestown pike.

The Fries lad had been employed in Springfield three years, connected with the Robbins and Myers Company as store keeper. About two months ago he came to Xenia and was working at the soft drink counter in the Atlas hotel. He gave up his position there recently owing the fact that he was suffering from boils on his arm, and was unable to work.

The remains can be viewed at the McClain undertaking parlors Friday afternoon and at the Mrs. E. O. Barnett home at 707 North King street, Saturday morning. Funeral services will be held at the residence of Mrs. Barnett, at 2:30 Saturday afternoon.

Harman and John Hardin and Jeremiah Tobias made up the balance of the crew.

AFRAID OF THE REDS.

Cincinnati, O., July 25.—The old, old story of strengthening the Giants whenever danger threatens, is seen in the trade yesterday whereby the Giants get Pitcher Phil Douglas from the Cubs in exchange for Outfielder Dave Robertson, says the Times Star today. But there is consolation for Red fans in the new deal; evidently McGraw fears the Reds more than he does the Cubs, for he refused to consider any kind of a trade that would bring Robertson to the Reds.

SIR THOMAS SURE OF NABbing CUP

The attempt will be made with the Shamrock IV. Sir Thomas explained that the new tactics were worked out while British wounded were being carried from Saloniki to Marseilles and that the Shamrock IV. will adopt them.

AVIATORS IN THE GOVERNMENT EMPLOY STRIKE

New York, July 25.—The first strike of aviators in the employ of the government was on today. Twenty aerial mail men failed to show up at Belmont Park, L. I., today because of the refusal of the postoffice department to reinstate two aviators who had been discharged. The mail plane which was due to leave at 5 a. m., with the Chicago mail did not leave the ground.

The aviators sent a communication to Second Assistant Postmaster General Prager in Washington yesterday telling him that unless E. Hamilton Lee and Leon Smith were reinstated they would strike. They alleged that Lee and Smith were discharged because they refused to fly in the bad weather last Tuesday. The aviators declared that it was unsafe to make the attempt in the machines that the government have furnished.

A reply was received from Prager late yesterday stating that the two aviators would not be reinstated. The aviators who struck today claim the men stationed at Bellefont, Cleveland and Chicago will join them in the strike and that the Chicago-New York aerial mail will be completely tied up.

Vigorous protests was made by the striking fliers against the type of machine used by the government in the mail service. They claim that it is not suitable for such service. They want a lighter machine which can be operated at a slower speed.

MURDER MYSTERY DEEPEDED BY THE FINDING OF POISON

Cleveland, O., July 25.—Announcement that an analysis of the contents of the organs of the body of Daniel Kaber had disclosed the presence of the deadly poison arsenic only served to deepen the mystery surrounding the murder of the Lakewood publisher.

The quantity of the poison discovered has not yet been definitely ascertained. Dr. J. G. Spencer, professor of chemistry at Western Reserve university, will complete this work today and will also analyze the embalming solutions used in Kaber's body to ascertain whether or not the arsenic discovered might have come from that source.

Coroner Byrne indicated today that much depended upon the final results of the poison test. It may result in the reopening of the inquest. County Prosecutor Doerflinger at the first inquest directed a number of questions along the line of possible poisoning and laid the ground work for further inquiries along this line.

Lakewood police with the assistance of Cleveland police today were working along a new theory. Chief Christensen declined to give any intimation of the nature of the new theory but said that his department would continue its investigation indefinitely in an effort to turn up some clue that would lead to the discovery and arrest of the murderer of Kaber.

GIGANTIC LOAN TO BE SOUGHT HERE.

Paris, July 25.—A gigantic loan will be sought in the United States next autumn sufficient to cover French, British, Belgian and Italian credits for thirty years, or until they do not need any further outside help, according to an interview with N. F. Filene, of Boston, printed in the Matin today.

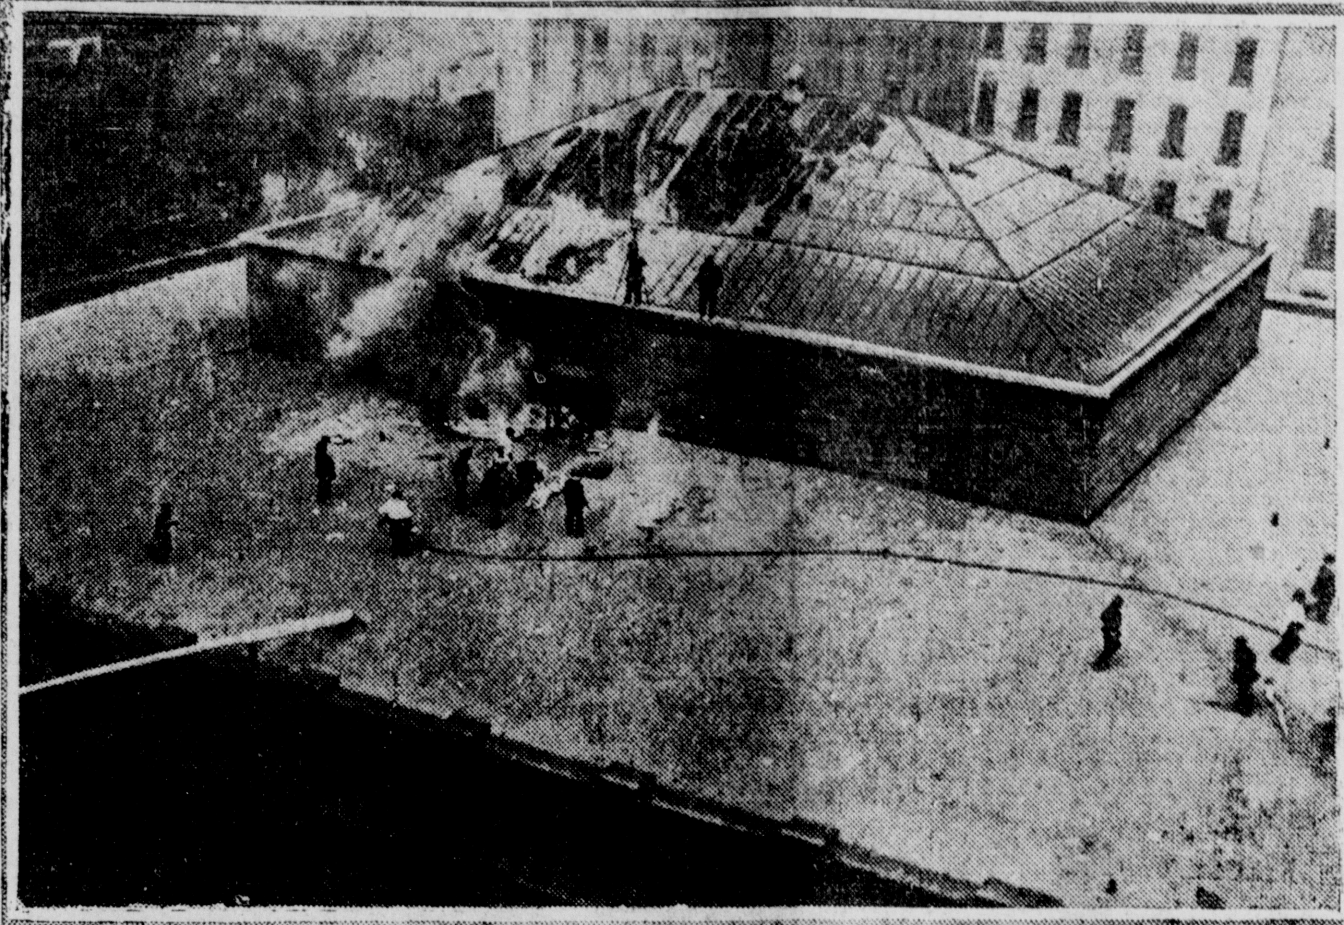

Mr. Filene, who is a delegate from the American chamber of commerce, has just left for London in connection with the scheme to supply Europe. Before he departed he told the Matin that delegates from Great Britain, France, Italy and Belgium would gather here in September sailing on the fifteenth of that month to attempt to secure the loan. Mr. Filene believes that the issuance of such a loan is the only way to save Europe from collapse.

COMMITTEE IS NAMED TO SEEK FINANCIAL RELIEF FOR THE CITY

A citizens' committee of investigation, composed of seven men and headed by Judge H. L. Smith, was named at the joint meeting of about twenty-five business and professional men with the City Commission at its regular session Thursday night as a means of arriving at a solution to the problem of the straitened financial condition under which this city is laboring.

The investigation committee will attempt to devise ways and means to determine the manner that different taxing district conduct their business and to attempt to arrive at a scheme to avert casting the city into further debt than necessary. The committee is composed of the following members, Judge H. L. Smith, P. H. Flynn, J. D. Steele, George Hudson, Harry LeSourd, Kenneth Williamson and Frank L. Smith. The committee will make its report following the investigations at a called mass meeting which will be announced at the will of the committee.

The action on the part of the business and professional men present, in taking this step in forming an investigating committee, was the result of an explanation of the city's financial condition by City Manager Kenyon Riddle, and the urging of the professional men present take some action in the matter. The meeting evolved into an open discussion after the Commission meeting was adjourned, and John A. Nisbet was appointed temporary chairman, and Kenyon Riddle, temporary secretary of the meeting, of which the appointing of the committee was the result.

In the business meeting of the Commissioners it was decided that a special election would be the most advantageous in which to prevent the issue to the people, and therefore the date on the ordinance providing for the bond issue for the purchase of the Xenia Water Company was changed from the general election day to a special election day, which will likely be held the latter part of September.

C. E. Arbogast, representing the Xenia Water Company presented the matter to the Commission. He said "We are sorry that in fixing the date for the election that it was not made at a special election instead of the regular November election. People are better advised on an issue at a special election than at a general election and have their minds made up when they go in the booth. It would also enable the city to get possession some six weeks sooner and save the city some $700 or $800."

"Members of the city commission expressed the same opinion in regard to the matter and at the vote on the subject there were four 'yeas' Mayor Whalen casting the only dissenting vote.

The matter of the improvement of crossings of the B. and O. railroad in this city was brought up by Manager Riddle in his regular report, showing that he had the written promises of the officials of the road to fix the crossings on Main street, Second street, Bellbrook avenue and the alley north of Cincinnati avenue with asphalt, and also to put up the company's standard crossing signal. The company refused watchmen saying it was doing away with them in most instances.

A resolution numbered 68 was read by City Solicitor Finney, acting as clerk in place of Auditor Hivling Stokes, providing for the transfer of $1,000 from the general to the safety fund. The three street ordinances, one providing for the paving of Main, Whiteman, Collier, Orange, Galloway, Market, West Second, Union streets and Home Avenue, Dayton Avenue and Cincinnati avenue, one providing for an issue of bonds in the amount of $25,000 to take care of the city's share of the expense and one providing for a bond issue of $175,000 in anticipation of the street assessment, were all passed without a dissenting vote as emergency measures to second reading being dispensed with.

At the conclusion of the regular business of the Commission, President Charters, who arrived late and relieved Vice President DeHaven in the chair, presented the matter of the financial condition of the city to the citizens who were invited to be present. He said: "You men have been asked to come here to be given a fair statement of the city's finances. You are interested in this matter as much as we are. We are merely handling your affairs." He called on Manager Riddle who explained the financial crisis faced by the city.

"By January 1, 1920, we will owe $29,613," said Mr. Riddle, after explaining the difficulty met by the city in attempting to discharge light and water debts." In 1920 we should have $58,000—as it is we will close 1920, $20,000 in debt. The administration realized that this deficit would occur and hoped to be relieved before this of the water debt. Statistics prove that this city could operate its water works at $10,000 a year less than what it is paying for water under the present system. If this had happened a year ago we wouldn't have any debt. Now to save $10,000 in 1920 would only reduce the debt to $43,000."

Mr. Riddle explained the attempt of the Commission to get relief by appealing to the State Legislature through the joint taxation committee. All avenues of relief have been exhausted in an attempt to find a solution of the problem.

"Unless you people see the conditions and urge that the administration does the best it can, sticks to the job and runs the city economically as possible, the safest thing for me is to get off the job before the close of 1920 rather than have it said that this form of government went into debt $26,000 in three years."

"I am convinced that the budget commission is doing the best it can—$15.30 won't go around," said Mr. Riddle in response to a query that some relief might be expected from this commission.

John A. Nisbet said, "The whole trouble with the taxation is the old idea of fixing one per cent as a rate. We are going through an inflation period. One dollar in tax now is only fifty cents. You can't get more than fifty cents worth for a dollar now. The legislature seems to think this one per cent idea is sacred. The only solution to the problem is to 'break' the Smith one per cent law and the only way to do that is to elect a new legislature. The only way is to get at the legislature and the only way to do that is to get a new legislature or bring pressure to bear upon the present legislature at the next election that will secure a promise of some relief."

A comparison between the county and the city was made when Manager Riddle explained that the county spent $245,000 a year, $50,000 of which is contributed by the city, whereas the municipality only has $32,000 for itself. Of the county funds, $55,000 goes for ditching it was explained.

"Then have the committee investigate the ditching," said Attorney Marcus Shoup. "The city administration cannot be criticised," he continued, "you are doing your best."

The meeting showed the interest that business and professional men have in the city and the administration is hoping for some real results through co-operation with them.

Cleveland Telephone company employees who struck, however, will not be restored to their insurance benefits for six months.

The phone companies agreed to return employees brought from other cities and to cease organization activities.

GERMAN GENERALS WILL FIGHT TO DEATH FOR THEIR DEAR KAISER

By Alfred G. Anderson.

Berlin, July 25.—If the ex-kaiser returns to Germany from Holland, many German army officers will "fight to their death," to prevent the entente powers from securing him for trial, according to General Von Plessen, who served the former emperor for many years as personal aide de camp. General Von Plessen is regarded as one of the most intimate friends of the exile and admitted that he had been in constant correspondence with William. These letters, however, did not touch on political subjects, Von Plessen insisted, but were friendly epistles and were sent unsealed.

Regarding the offers of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg and former Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg, to stand trial for the ex-kaiser, Von Plessen declared Von Hindenburg was morally responsible for the one time military orders.

"According to the German constitution every governmental act of the ex-kaiser required the sanction of the chancellor in order to be valid," said Von Plessen.

"The chancellor therefore assumed sole legal responsibility.

"There was no legal responsibility for military commands on the chief of staff of the armies in the field, but Von Hindenburg was morally responsible for all military acts after taking charge of operations in August 1916."

"Former Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg's offer was meant literally and was a frank acknowledgment of responsibility, thereby taking a stand based on both truth and justice, but the offer in no wise recognized the authority of the enemy tribunal.

"Our former enemies know as well as we do that there was war blame on their side, but they would forget their responsibility in the caricature of a tribunal in which they are the prosecutor and judge and which the British press with cynical frankness admits is to give the masses a theatrical spectacle."

"The idea of placing the former kaiser on trial before a tribunal is utterly devoid of justification. It is a wild, reckless, contemptible notion unworthy of any decent thinking nation and is morally insulting to our national pride. It is built on the foundation of unjust passionate revenge mania to cover up proven falsehoods."

Asked what German officers would do in the event the former kaiser returned to Germany, and the entente insisted upon his extradition, General Von Plessen answered: "You know the revolution destroyed our splendid Germany. German officers cannot tear out their love and loyalty to their hereditary ruler and supreme war lord. Our hearts are true to our military oath. Every one of us from Field Marshal to the youngest lieutenant would let himself be cut to pieces rather than surrender the imperial master."

General Von Plessen declared that the former kaiser never mentioned extradition in his letters, hence he did not know whether or not the erstwhile war lord was considering the advisability of offering to appear voluntarily before an international tribunal. He thought this improbable, however. Nor did the ex-kaiser mention plans for the future such as buying a Dutch castle in which to live.

Von Plessen denied that William is ill or broken down, but naturally he explained, "his majesty is far from joyous."

The general admitted that the ex-kaiser's sons were legally not entitled to substitute for their father before an international court but at the same time he argued that an entente court would not be legal.

"Can you offer proofs that the ex-kaiser was not responsible for the outbreak of the war?" I asked General Von Plessen. He replied: "For 25 years I have been in his majesty's immediate service as adjutant general. Before God and the world I can truthfully testify his most ardent endeavor has been to preserve the peace of his people and the world. He was convinced that even if the most successful war meant disaster owing to the sacrifice entailed and the sacrifice he wished to spare Germany."

If William had not absolutely desired to avert war many favorable opportunities were offered us to strike. The most favorable was in 1905 when Russia was defeated by Japan. That this opportunity was not seized was due primarily to William's love of peace. During the critical days at the end of July of 1914 the emperor was very active in every way to maintain peace, but his efforts at mediation were frustrated by Russian mobilization. Our adversaries' allegation were purely designed to blame Germany in order to justify unprecedented peace terms which are irreconcilable with the armistice and President Wilson's 14 points."

General Von Plessen is probably one of the most intimate friends of the ex-kaiser living in Germany and his views may be said to reflect those held by the former war lord himself. At the present time the general is living in a modest apartment in Potsdam.

THIEF MAKES SECOND ATTEMPT TO ROB STORE AT CLIFTON

A thief who made a second attempt within a week to burglarize the general store of W. B. Clark in Clifton, was frightened away Thursday night, by a gun shot fired by Mrs. Shaffer, a widow, the yard of whose home connects in the rear with the Clark store.

Mrs. Shaffer heard the burglar break the window with a brick which was wrapped in a handkerchief, and crawl into the store. Waiting until he was inside, she fired the gun, and the fellow crawled out the window and ran. Nothing in the store was disturbed.

Too frightened to make an outcry or give the alarm, Mrs. Shaffer lay in her bed last Sunday night, and through the open window watched two burglars break into the Clark store. They remained there for two hours. At that time a quantity of men's shirts, overalls, underwear, two boxes of ten cent cigars, some smoked meats and pocket knives were stolen. One of the burglars changed his shirt for a new one and left the old garment behind.

Because the thief selected garments of certain sizes Sheriff Funderburg and Chief of Police Canaday believe that he stole for his own use, and does not intend to sell his booty. Shirts of 16 and 16½ neck band, and men's drawers and overalls in size 36 were taken. The brick used to break the window Thursday night, was wrapped in a handkerchief that had been stolen Sunday night.

After the first visit of the burglars, Mrs. Shaffer was provided with a gun and a telephone was also put in her house. She was afraid to use the latter, fearing that the bell would be heard by the burglar.

CHAUTAUQUA TICKET SELLERS TO REPORT

Returns of money taken in on all season tickets sold by guarantors for the Redpath Chautauqua will be received by Miss Faye Cavanaugh at the city building Friday night at seven o'clock.

Guarantors agreed to sell 750 $2 season tickets, not including war tax, to bring the Redpath organization here this season and it is imperative that these returns be made to Miss Cavanaugh at once, before the beginning of the Chautauqua week. Tickets sold at the gate will advance to $2.75 for the week and if paid in single admissions will amount to over $8 so it is doubly advantageous to buy from the solicitors.

Miss Cavanaugh is hoping that all those who have been selling tickets will make their complete returns at the city building Friday night.

CAR OF SISAL CATCHES ON FIRE

Sisal loaded on a Baltimore and Ohio gondola car and consigned to The Hooven and Allison Company, caught fire while the train was passing through the yards Friday morning. The crew made an unsuccessful effort to extinguish the flames, and the car was halted at the Cincinnati avenue crossing and a fire alarm sent in. The fire department extinguished the blaze within a short time.

Now Is a Good Time To Drive Out Catarrh

The Trouble Is In the Blood.

Summer catarrh, with its nauseous discharge, stuffed up glands, difficult breathing, and summer colds, is bad enough, but the worst of it is yet to come if you neglect to check the growth that is forming to attack you with ten-fold greater power during the winter. That's why it is so important to treat catarrhs and other blood disorders with S. S. S. during warm weather, and thus free the system from all impurities.

It is now an established fact that catarrh is in the blood and that lotions and salves do not give relief. The experience of others has proven that S. S. S. strikes at the very root of the trouble and eliminates it. Waste no time in this matter, for it is of the utmost importance. Write to our Medical Advisor about your case. ## ADVISES ORDINARY BUTTERMILK FOR WRINKLES AND ENLARGED PORES

This Good Looking Young Woman Advises Old Time Recipe of Buttermilk Cream in a New Way—A Gentle Massage with Fingers Before Retiring All That Is Necessary.

The old-time application of Buttermilk and Cream to whiten and preserve the skin and remove harsh little wrinkles and ugly sallowness is grandmother's recipe and women throughout the country are again using it to ensure a beautiful complexion and snow white hands and arms.

No matter whether you are troubled with wrinkles, hard little lines around the mouth and eyes, coarse, sallow, faded looking skin, or simply roughness and redness caused by wind and sun, you will find that all these trials quickly disappear with the use of this old-fashioned beauty recipe brought up to date. Sayre & Hemphill's.

Beautiful actresses say, "A short massage with Howard's Buttermilk Cream at night before retiring is all that is necessary."

MISS ELEANOR DONGES BECOMES THE BRIDE OF WM. SHADRACH

In the presence of members of the immediate families of the bridal pair, the marriage ceremony by which Miss Eleanor Donges, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Donges, became the bride of John William Shadrach, former first lieutenant in the aviation section of the army, took place at the Donges home, 618 South Detroit street, at 6:15 Wednesday evening.

The Rev. C. P. Proudfoot, of the Second United Presbyterian church, pastor of the bride, officiated, using the ring service. The ceremony took place in the parlor of the home, and roses and phlox in pink and white, were used in the decorations. The bride, a very lovely girl, wore a tailored coat suit of navy blue, with navy georgette blouse, and hat in the same shade. Her flowers were sweetheart roses, worn in a corsage bouquet.

Following the service a collation was served, and Mr. and Mrs. Shadrach left the city at 7:02 o'clock for a short honeymoon trip. They expect to spend a few days along the lake shore, and upon their return will be at home on Shaw avenue, Dayton.

Mr. Shadrach is now in the employ of the government in the Material Disposal Department at Moraine City. He spent seventeen months overseas in the aviation service, and reached the rank of first lieutenant.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Shadrach are graduates of Xenia high school, and their marriage is the culmination of a school days romance. Mrs. Shadrach finished her education in the Western College at Oxford, and studied music at the Cincinnati Conservatory. She been a popular and favorite bride-elect.

After a year overseas, during which time he saw active service, and was with the Army of Occupation, Russell A. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson of Trumbull street, is in this country. He landed at New York July 20, and was sent to Camp Mills. The young man is a member of Company K, 60th Infantry, Fifth Division. While in action he was slightly wounded, being shot through a finger.

Alfred L. Marshall, former Xenian, now of Columbus, spent Thursday in this city.

MAKE ALL YOU CAN. SAVE
ALL YOU CAN. GIVE ALL YOU CAN.

Say what you may, "there's nothing makes money like money." We know of a couple of Cincinnati draymen, brothers, thrifty fellows, who after thirty years of hard work had accumulated $20,000 each, when they concluded to retire. One of them invested his money in real estate, and bought and sold property. The other one loaned and re-loaned his money. At the end of fifteen years, the one who used his means as money was worth twice as much as his brother. "Money makes money."

The recent consolidation of interests of the Fifty-third National Bank and the Union Savings Bank and Trust Company gives Cincinnati one of the largest affiliated financial institutions of the country outside the important financial centers.

These transactions mark the retirement of Julius Fleischmann and J. G. Schmidlapp from active participation in the absorbed financial institutions, with which they long were connected in the upbuilding of Cincinnati and its business.

Deposits of the combined institutions are given as $55,815,000, capital $4,200,000, surplus $5,262,000, and resources $77,346,000. The Fifty-third National Bank is on a 10 per cent a year dividend basis, and the Union Savings Bank and Trust Company on a 25 per cent basis.

If you want to know the value of money, try to borrow some. When money represents so many things, not to want it would be unnatural. Get money, then use it with common sense. Money is powerful for good, if properly used. Give it plenty of air and it may be a benediction to you. Shut it up and it cankers and breeds worms. Make money your God and it will plague you like the devil.

DOES THIS HIT YOU, IF SO PUT ON THE SHOE.

Common-sense economy on the part of all people of the United States is the only thing that can bring down high prices and save the country from a great financial panic, according to Charles J. Webb, rated as the biggest cotton and wool dealer in Philadelphia.

Mr. Webb gave these opinions the other day in an interview occasioned by the greatly increased cost of clothing of all kinds.

"The greatest reason of all is that the American people have the insane idea that they must spend all their money. Give a man $50 a week and he would have a fit if he didn't spend that $50 by the end of each week.

"Let him go into a store to buy cloth. Lay a web of cloth on the counter and tell him it's $2 a yard. He will not buy it. Put the same web on the shelf and take it down again without him seeing you, tell him it's $4 a yard and he'll buy it.

"The people have the foolish idea that the more a thing costs the better it is. And they think that the more they spend, the bigger sports they are.

"That's the reason for a great part of inflated prices. There is always somebody waiting to take the money. It becomes a necessity in some cases to charge the higher prices in order to keep trade. The people will not buy what they consider the cheap stuff.

"And the only one that suffers is the man on salary, whose increases do not keep pace with those of the laborer and the farmer. He is caught in the middle.

"What this country needs said Mr. Webb, is a great spell of economy—plain, downright common-sense economy. Let them quit spending their pay every week. Let them lay a little aside. They can do it by not buying things that are not absolutely necessary. Wear a suit a little longer or the like. It can be done."

Mrs. Ralph Townsley, and daughter, Virginia, of Dayton, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Sellers of the Burlington pike.

SANDRA THE

BY JANE PHELPS.

EVERETT AND SANDRA GO SHOPPING

CHAPTER XXIII.
As I leaned back in the luxurious town car Everett had given me for my very own I muttered:

"What do I care whether he is pleased or not?" Yet I knew I did care, and the fact that a moment after I had made the hasty exclamation, I was carefully examining my face with a hand mirror to see if I really did look well, proved that I did.

Inconsistent, yes. But was ever seventeen consistent?

Everett was waiting for me, altho I was exactly on time. He complimented me saying:

"Many women think ten or fifteen minutes one way or another makes no difference. But a man likes promptness. I am glad you have that virtue among your other ones." It wasn't a very intimate speech; but I was glad he was pleased with me. He then asked that they show me the coat.

The coat was perfectly lovely! A sapphire blue velvet with a sable collar. It was awfully becoming. But I winced when he said:

"I knew it would be! Sapphire is always becoming to people with your colored hair."

Had Leola worn sapphire velvet too?

I gasped when I knew the cost, but Everett never said a word. Just said to send it as soon as possible. A slight change was necessary in the collar or we might have taken it.

"You were very lovely in it, Sandra," he said when we left the store. Now go and buy yourself some books and magazines. I should like to go with you, but haven't the time."

As he turned away after assisting me into the car, my eyes filled. I couldn't have told just why, but something in his voice, his eyes as he told me I was lovely in the coat, made me think he was sorry for me, and so made me sorry for myself. But I brushed them quickly away and spent an hour selecting reading matter. I wished I knew the kind of books he liked. I must ask, then I could occasionally buy him one.

When he came home to dinner I was curled up on the rug in front of the fire place reading.

"Purring just like a kitten," he said as he kissed me and helped me to my feet. He looked at the book I was reading, then at the others I had bought, and selecting one said he should take possession of it, as he had wanted to read it ever since he had read the reviews. I was pleased out of all proportion to the incident. But that he would read anything I had selected, made me think I was not so hopelessly childish as he usually made me feel. I did so want him to treat me like a grown-up.

He took me to the theater that night, and never said a cross or impatient word. "Perhaps he does love me a little," I said to myself, "and so is sorry for me."

Had I known that for weary weeks and months I was to blow hot and blow cold over the question of Everett's feelings for me I should not have known how to endure my life. But I was of an optimistic nature, and it took very little to encourage me, to think as I wanted to think.

It is so easy to fool ourselves if we really try.

Had I known that even then Everett was discovering that I was not as young as he had thought—not a child; but a grown girl, almost a woman. That he also thought me, very lovely, with the promise of greater beauty when more mature, it would have comforted me immensely. I did realize in a way that he was rather proud of me. He couldn't hide that. But I laid it all to his taste in dressing me for that was what he did. Altho he never objected when I wore one of my simple trousseau dresses in the house; he did object once when I wore one when going to the theater with him.

"They were all right for Lakeville, and are perfectly appropriate for home wear. But I can afford handsome clothes for you. Why shouldn't you have them?"

I didn't say anything, but I too thought, why not? It was all I did have—what his money bought me. That other woman, Leola, had his love. So I soon developed extravagant tastes. It does not make a woman long when she is given carte blanche to learn the gentle art of spending money. At least I never have met a woman who wasted much time over that particular lesson.

So often when lonely and unhappy because of the thought of Leola I would spend my time in shopping. It made me forget her, aside from the pleasure it gave me. Yet no saleswoman ever recommended a hat, a dress or anything else with the remark that it would be becoming because of my hair, that I did not at once lose all interest in the article I had intended to purchase, and leave the shop empty handed.

Often and often I wished that Everett had not said that he was attracted to me because I had hair like Leola; the woman who had drowned herself rather than have him disgrace her before the world. The woman I was sure he still loved. Had he not said that I think I could perhaps soon have forgotten and forgiven all the rest; but that rankled, rankled and hurt. As time went on I became more and more in love with my husband, the hurt was sometimes almost more than I could bear.

Tomorrow—Sandra is Received by Everett's Friends.

ROAD TO WEALTH.

We've often thought what a pity it is that a man can't dispose of his experience for as much as it cost him.—Eskridge Independent.

Lazy Life During Hot Months
Causes Lazy Liver

AT no other time is the girl so constant a companion of her mother as when she is emerging into womanhood. There are so many questions to ask; so much she needs to know.

And school is over. Hers is now a lazy, inactive, carefree life. No wonder she is not always as lively and as well as she should be at her age. Let the mother inquire if the bowels are functioning properly, for there lies the basis of good and poor health.

It will usually be found that a laxative is needed, and none will give safer and quicker relief than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin which is just a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin. Taken tonight, it acts freely and pleasantly in the morning. The head is again clear, the body light. There is renewed interest in life. A dose of Syrup Pepsin now and then is almost a necessity for everyone in hot weather. A bottle can be bought at any drug store for 50c and $1, the latter being the family size, or a free trial bottle can be had by sending your address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 486 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Relieves the Ailments of Change of Life.

"During Change of Life I had hot flashes, dizzy spells and every month I was wild with misery. I had a constant dull pain, and would always feel tired. I suffered in this way for five or six years and was treated by a physician and took different remedies without benefit. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me and I took it, and I believe I would never have been well if it had not been for the Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I am recommending your medicine to all women ailing as I was, for I think it will carry them safely through the Change of Life, and relieve the ailments that come at that period."—Mrs. ALEXIE C. NANGLE, Galatia, Ill.

Women who suffer from nervousness, "heat flashes," backache, headaches, and "the blues," should try this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and if communications exist write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of their 40 years' experience in such cases is at your service.

Sun and Wind Brings Out Ugly Spots. How to Remove Easily.

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable concern that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from any druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength Othine as this strength is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

To-Night

"POOR FELLOW!"

So they pitied him, a blind soldier, and blindly went their ways. And at a cabaret that night they saw a girl dancing—"just a chorus girl," with the love of her kind for the gladness and glitter of life. Yet how little they saw! That soldier had gone blind to save a comrade's life. That dancing girl had seen him with the eyes of her soul, and, sacrificing more than they could dream, had loved him. YOU will love the whole world just a little better when you see Elsie Ferguson in "Eyes of the Soul."

HIS NERVE FORCE SLOW TO RETURN AFTER THE "FLU"

But Nerv-Worth Soon "Made It Gain Every Day," Says
James W. Kinnell.

This well known resident of Greensburg, Pa., makes a statement here which a host of sufferers from flu after effects should promptly profit by. This is what he said a few days ago to Greensburg's Nerv-Worth druggist.

H. J. Weightman—I had a very severe attack of the "flu." It left me in a very nervous and weakened condition and I did not seem to be making any progress in regaining my nerve force and strength, until I took Nerv-Worth. Its use placed me on the way to recovery and I am gaining every day. I want to recommend it to others in the same condition.

JAMES W. KINNEL, 213 Park St., Greensburg, Pa. Nerv-Worth whets the appetite, adds flesh, aids digestion, steadies and strengthens the nerves, rouses the liver, restores restful sleep, banishes sick and nervous headache and other aches and pains, builds up run-down systems. If it does not do this for you, your dollar back at Sayre & Hemphills, Xenia. W. F. Harper sells Nerv-Worth in Jamestown.

We're ready for "Roughing it"

Even tho' you plan to spend your two weeks back of a two weeks growth of beard you can't deny that Robinson Crusoe had a valet and that you'll need at least two changes to see you thru' since you're not so handy at handling goat skins.

You'll find us a veritable Friday for sending you away to rough it de luxe and mighty good listeners to your fish stories when you get back.

PESKY BED BUGS

A MILLION BEDBUGS. Just think, a 35c package of the new golden chemical P. D. Q. (Pesty Devil's Quietude), is enough to make a quart and enough to kill a million bedbugs, no matter how large they may be, where they came from, their age, color or sex, and at the same time leaves a coating on their eggs and prevents hatching.

CUT THIS OUT. This new chemical can be had at any first-class drug store. A 35-cent package makes a quart of P. D. Q. and will go farther than a barrel of old-fashioned bug killer. Don't let anybody impose upon your intelligence by offering you something else. Insist on what you ask for, then you'll have what doctors prescribe.

KILLS FLEAS ON DOGS. It's fun to see the fleas drop off your pet dogs.

KILLS CHICKEN LICE. No use for your chickens to have lice. A 35c package mixed makes a gallon of chicken lice killer.

Your druggist has it, or can get it for you.

FORMER JAMESTOWN WOMAN PASSES AWAY

Mrs. J. D. King, for 15 years a resident of Jamestown, where her husband was proprietor of a department store, died Thursday afternoon at the Miami Valley Hospital, Dayton, of pneumonia, following an operation. The King family moved to Dayton, three months ago. About a month ago Mrs. King entered the hospital and underwent an operation for gallitis. A second operation for the trouble was necessary, and following this surgery pneumonia developed. She died after a few days' illness.

Mrs. King clerked in her husband's store while they were in Jamestown, and she was well known and had a large number of friends. She is survived by her husband and an adopted son, Eugene. Funeral services will be held Friday and the body will be taken to Brookville, the old home of Mrs. King.

LITTLE GIRL FALLS FROM A WINDOW

Pushing out a swinging screen in an upstairs window, three-year-old Martha McCormick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo T. McCormick of Center street, fell from the window to the ground Friday morning.

A physician found that the child was severely shaken up and had a painful bruise on her back near the shoulders, but was otherwise apparently uninjured.

NEW JASPER

Mr. Mat Smith and family spent Wednesday with Mrs. Raper Sutton. Mr. M. H. Perkins of Columbus, spent Saturday and Sunday with John Shirk and family.

Mr. Vernon Jones, who fell and cut the ligaments in his hand, is getting along as well as could be expected.

Orville Swogger has been visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Louderback of Paintersville.

Miss Katherine LeValley has been

DIDN'T CARE WHAT HAPPENED

"I became a physical wreck from stomach trouble and was a fit subject only for the operating table or graveyard. Being discouraged, I gave way to drink, which made things worse. I got so I didn't care what happened, and wanted to die. Mayr's Wonderful Remedy has cured me of everything. Am now in fine condition and feel 25 years younger." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Sayre & Hemphill, and druggists everywhere.
